NaiQi Shi

I moved from Thailand to Ohio in 1999 and my parents started going to church at CCCC. Since I was really young, I had to go with them. A few years later, my parents became Christians and got baptized. When I was in kindergarten, I started to go to AWANA. When I was in my second year at AWANA and in first grade, I decided that I wanted to become a Christian. It was on a special night in AWANA when they specifically asked if anyone in the room wanted to become a Christian, and I did. So I went with a teacher and a couple other kids, and the teacher helped us pray to God and become Christians. I am glad that I became a Christian that night, and God has helped me a lot through my life.
